

I like to receive printed annual reports from companies I invest in. Whilst I have no objection to allowing shareholders to opt out of receiving them or to companies requiring shareholders to opt in in order to receive them, I would be very disappointed to find that companies were no longer required to produce printed annual reports at all.

-- David Clasen.